

Job Title: Senior Financial Planning Manager*Location: London (Hybrid working)*The Opportunity

We're seeking a Senior FP&A Manager to head up our Financial Planning & Analysis function. You'll bring FinTech experience and a passion for innovation to enable strategic decision-making and operational excellence as Sonovate scales globally. This is a high-impact role, owning budgeting, forecasting, scenario modelling, and financial analytics, ensuring Finance is a proactive enabler of automation, capital efficiency, and revenue expansion.

You will work closely with Treasury Management in a tight-knit team that thrives on collaboration, continuous improvement, and delivering meaningful impact. Your expertise will help shape our financial strategy, support multi-market expansion, and drive the adoption of technology-first processes across the business.

What You'll Do

- Lead annual and rolling budgeting cycles (3+9, 6+6, 9+3) and deliver flexible, scenario-based models for strategic decisions.
- Model new product propositions (including multi-currency features) and analyse their impact on liquidity, margins, and cost of capital.
- Drive automation of FP&A processes and reporting, partnering with Tech/Product to integrate financial data into our platform and BI tools.
- Provide real-time dashboards and predictive analytics for leadership, translating complex data into actionable recommendations.
- Collaborate on capital stack optimisation, funding strategy, and support liquidity planning for multi-market expansion.
- Influence strategic initiatives including international expansion and embedded finance.
- Champion the ethical and secure use of AI, leveraging it to drive informed, efficient, and forward-thinking decisions.

What We're Looking For

- Advanced Excel (complex modelling, macros, scenario planning), strong SQL, and PowerBI (or similar BI tools) expertise.
- Experience in SaaS-based lending or fintech with funding vehicles.
- Understanding of treasury, securitisation, and liquidity management.
- Proven ability to implement tech-first FP&A processes and familiarity with ERP/BI integrations.
- Commercial acumen: ability to link financial outcomes to growth strategies and customer behaviour.

- Strong stakeholder management, communication, and leadership skills.
